IMPORTANT NOTE FOR KINDLE OWNERS: To avoid confusion and disappointment for you and nasty reviews for me, the book you're looking for is probably The Girl on the Train by Paula Hawkins. If not, please go ahead and download my book!

Holly Masters, an Australian girl from Palm Beach lives with her parents and is inseparable from her best friend Tash. One day her life is turned upside down by her father's decision to move the whole family to England. Holly is determined to find a way back home and determined to hate her new school. When Bobby is asked to look after Holly the two girls find that friendship doesn't depend on where you come from or how long you've known someone. They learn to rely on each other and face their problems together.

When Holly's family is threatened Holly, Bobby and their friends could be the only ones who can deal with the situation. When they do it puts that friendship and even their lives to the test. With no superpowers they have to rely on each other. Will they find a way to succeed or will the situation prove too much to handle?
